

DRAFT AGENDA

Friday, October 22nd
12:30 – 2:00 pm	Optional Pre-Session Futures Game
2:00 pm	Refreshments and Mingling
3:00 pm	Welcome and Opening of the 2010 Symposium
4:00 pm PLENARY	Columbia River Treaty (CRT) It re-shaped our Basin and it is why CBT exists. This session will explore the future of the CRT and the range of potential changes that Basin residents should know about. Come learn, share your stories and have your voice heard.
5:30 pm	Travel to Revelstoke Mountain Resort Transportation will be provided to the resort.
6:30 – 9:00 pm	Dinner, Dessert and Inspiration Keynote address by Paul Edney, co-author of the Canadian bestseller Change the World for Ten Bucks – 50 actions to change the world and make you feel great. Buffet dinner, CBT15 th Anniversary Celebration dessert and speeches, including slide show of the myBasin photo contest entries.
9:00 pm	Travel back to Revelstoke Transportation will be provided back to the Revelstoke Community Centre.

Saturday, October 23rd
7:30 am	Breakfast
8:30 am PLENARY	What is Shaping the Basin Today and Tomorrow?  George Penfold, Regional Innovation Chair, Selkirk College  David Beurle, Founder and Managing Director, Innovative Leadership Presenters will highlight some of the significant trends and forces shaping rural areas and the Basin in particular; is it a recipe for disaster or a rural renaissance?
9:30 am	Health and Nutrition Break
10:00 am Groups will guide their own Health &amp; Nutrition breaks	Concurrent Sessions Session 1: Intelligent Communities-Success in the Broadband Economy            Session 2: Alternate Energy and Energy Sustainability            Session 3: Effective Community and Stakeholder Engagement            Session 4: Strong Organizations for Strong Communities
11:30 am – 2:00 pm	Extended Lunch            Ready when you are anytime until 2 pm. Delicious, fresh homemade soups and made-to-order deli sandwich bar served in the main hallway. CBT Board and CEO            Join other attendees for a question and answer period with the CBT Board of Directors and CEO. CBT Knowledge Fair            This is your opportunity to engage in the work of CBT in the areas of Community, Economic, Environment, Investments, Social, Water and Youth. Interact with CBT staff in this open community-like environment. Browse at your leisure and enjoy a variety of mini-events happening at each of the booths. Meet the Speakers            Many of the speakers that are participating in the concurrent sessions have offered to be available during this extended lunch period to engage with symposium attendees. Connect with the speakers one-on-one!
2:00 pm	Concurrent Sessions (Repeat of morning sessions – see above)
4:00 pm PLENARY	Building Our Views About the Future (Part 1 of 2)  David Beurle, Founder and Managing Director, Innovative Leadership This session will provide an overview of the regional scenario planning process being undertaken at the conference and will harness the awareness and knowledge of all participants in examining the key drivers that people see are shaping the futures of the Columbia Basin Trust area.
5:00 pm	Dinner On Own            Visit the Information Booth if you require local restaurant details.
7:00 – 9:30 pm	Cultural Entertainment            CBT invites you to join them for an evening immersed in the Basin’s cultural entertainment. A self-guided tour has been designed to include: an excursion of Revelstoke’s rich culture, a splendid viewing of Basin films and a lively showcasing of music by performers from across the Basin. Comprising this tour are three wonderful museums, two visual arts venues and a common area to come together with your fellow cultural enthusiasts and dance in the street!

SHAPING OUR FUTURE TOGETHER

Take Action
Build Partnerships
Strengthen Communities

2010 Columbia Basin Symposium • October 22-24 Revelstoke BC

Sunday, October 24th
7:30 am	Breakfast
8:30 am PLENARY	Building Our Views About the Future (Part 2 of 2) David Beurle, Founder and Managing Director, Innovative Leadership This interactive and highly participatory session will explore a range of plausible futures for the Columbia Basin Trust region. Participants will work in groups to develop detailed and evocative narratives about possible future scenarios and the implications against the triple bottom line of environment, economy and society. This will provide a catalyst for identifying actions that can be taken today to put us in a position to deal with tomorrow's challenges, including those that can be addressed together on a regional basis, as well as those that are more community specific.
11:30 am PLENARY	Symposium Closing and Farewell Inspire and motivate participants to take action, build partnerships and strengthen their community.
12:00 pm	Brown Bag Lunch To Go Attendees can take advantage of opportunities to "stay and play" in Revelstoke in the afternoon.